ABSTRACT

In the context of the coronavirus pandemic, the world is seeing a slowdown in global economic growth in developed countries. This affected all sectors of the economy, including manufacturing, services, trade relations between countries and exports. The coronavirus pandemic is projected to slow global economic growth and lead to a global economic crisis, according to a report by the international rating agency Global Ratings. According to the international rating agency Global Ratings, in 2020 the export of goods and services decreased by 17.2% in the People's Republic of China, by 24.1% in the Italian Republic, by 21.3% in Spain and by 13.3% in Russia.
