ABSTRACT

*This article analyzes the associative field of antonyms in the Uzbek language, showing that antonyms always remind each other and their peculiarities. The formation of syntactic connections through associative units, the relationship of associative field units is analyzed. The fact that some compounds in the associative field continue to be antonyms, in others they lose their antonyms, and sometimes their meanings are close to each other, that is, the formation of synonymous pairs, is illustrated by the example of ofq – qora (black-white) lexemes.*

KEYWORDS: Associative Units, Associative Field, Antonym, Relation, Stimulus.
