ABSTRACT

This paper examines about the Workplace Situations faced by every employee once a while in their Working Experience. It is really a challenging aspect to connect the situation with the Holy Book RAMAYANA, but most of the employees are facing such situations. We can learn great lessons from our Indian epic Ramayana. It offers the lessons that should be grasped by every employee or individual so that they can easily accept the challenge and proof their potentials accordingly. Our Hindu mythology, faith and spirituality have several subtle and teach us the explicit lessons for how one should lead lives, as well as they need to realise that they are equally related to their workplace settings, as organizations are nothing but an extension of how people live their lives outside of their houses. A wise person won't just look the holy epic Ramayana as a story but also as a medium of education. Over the years, our sages and gurus have espoused the significance of doing the dharma (duty) and the Ramayana teaches us the lessons of leadership, governance and overall management.
