ABSTRACT

This paper is put to assess and evaluate the significance and role of the function of the judicial systems of both Uzbekistan and Ukraine in the acquisition of criminal justice process, as well as analyzes the institution of judicial control and their correlation with the function of the courts in the administration of justice. Additionally, serves to ensure the rights and legitimate interests of the individual in criminal proceedings at the initial stage of the investigation. From the above observation, there rule remain that the interdependence as evaluated in both countries continue to be questionable as constant violations are experienced. This infelicities of the two systems has been a tempting ground for continous examination and evaluation.
