ABSTRACT

This article researches differences between proverbs and sayings with proper names. Theoretical and practical materials on phraseological units served as a ground for analysis. Proverbs and sayings are a common style of oral national art. They have been accompanying people since ancient times. Such expressive means as an accurate rime, ordinary structure, shortness, make proverbs and sayings persistent, memorable and essential in discourse. Many of them arose even when there was no writing.

KEYWORDS: Proverbs, Sayings, Phraseological Units, Expressive Means, Folklore, Structural-Semantic.
